

THE "BEE" AND THE FEDERATED TRADES.

The Sacramento Bee has been boycotted by the Printers' Union of Sacramento, and the Federated Trades of the State of California have joined in the boycott, spreading circulars over the country calling upon merchants to discontinue patronizing the Bee.

The striking printers have not been indorsed in their action by a single paper on the coast, as far as heard from.

The trouble—if the APPEAL is correctly informed—grew out of the use of what is called "plate matter," by the Bee.

The plate matter is in the form of stories and illustrated articles, set up and cast in plates in San Francisco.

No printer in the Bee office ever lost a single cent by reason of the use of this matter. The regular composition bills are as large as ever, and the use of the plate enables the Bee to print a double illustrated edition every Saturday, in addition to what it used to print.

The introduction of the plate matter did not result in discharging a single man or reducing his salary. It largely increased the circulation of the paper, thereby making the Bee a more solvent concern than ever.

The plates worked no injury to the printers, and they had no cause for their subsequent action.

In Virginia City plates are used in the Chronicle and Enterprise, and the Printers' Union there makes no objection.

The Federated Trades, by asking merchants to cease doing business with the Bee have violated the law of California, and the Bee has struck back by swearing out about a hundred complaints against the boycotters. The cases will go to trial, and the result will be interesting.

The printers had a right to quit work if they wanted to do so, but the Federated Trades Union overstepped the bounds when they attempted to injure the Bee's business by circulating printed calls to the community to assist in damaging the paper.

The worst feature of the strike is that the journal has always been a staunch defender of the labor element, advocated high wages and dealt hard blows for them in many a fight.

Now the labor unions are reading their old friend. This is bad policy, and will cause papers to hesitate about "standing in" on such occasions if they are to be rewarded with such ingratitude.

This is no new thing, however. John Swinton, the ablest writer on labor questions who ever lived in the United States, spent the best part of his life wielding a pen for the interests of the working class, and they let his paper die from lack of support and allowed him to turn out to starve in his old age.

The labor interests do a foolish thing when they stab their friends as the Sacramento laboring men have stabbed the Bee. The work was as causeless as it was cowardly.

May Make the Jack Rabbit Valuable.

The New York papers say a company has been organized in that city to make sham sealskins by a new process, and it is making preparations for wholesale operations. Rabbit skins are used as a basis, and they are manipulated so that it is difficult for any but an expert to distinguish the difference between them and the genuine article. If rabbit skins can be converted into garments that look as well and are as nearly serviceable as sealskins, the jack rabbit of the sagebrush may yet become quite valuable.

The Manhattan Mill at Austin, has gone into the hands of the U. S. Marshall. This about winds up Austin.

It is said that flies cannot stand the scent of dried clover.

What Beat Him.

The Chronicle tells Democratic voters. That Bartine's money purchased all the floaters. Bartine won mainly by the usual scarcity of people anxious to cast votes for Cassidy.

THE MANHATTAN

Life Insurance Co.,

OF NEW YORK.

ASSETS - - $12,000,000.

BETTER THAN A

GOVERNMENT BOND.

The MANHATTAN for a limited period will offer the residents of Nevada a Bond Combining Insurance and investment that is in reach of all and which every healthy able-bodied man in the State should possess—for the protection of himself and family.

In explanation read what follows: Suppose a special agent of the U. S. Treasury Department should call on you today and say:

The Government would like to sell you bonds for any amount between $1,000 and $30,000 and if it is not convenient for you to make the investment at once, we will allow you to pay for the bonds in Ten Equal Annual Installments.

And, suppose, in addition to this, the Government, wishing to make this the most desirable investment in the world, should stipulate in the bond, not only to pay them at the end of the term, but in case of your previous death, to pay them to your family and AT THE SAME TIME RELEASE YOUR FAMILY FROM PAYING ANY FURTHER MONEY.

Would you not at once close with such an offer? And yet this is practically what the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, of New York has done and is doing.
